

deborah mccarthy studios

Indoors | Outdoors: The new technical Porcelain

Technical porcelain architectural skins...in very large panel formats, thicknesses, and modular and rectified tile. Full body solid colours, or a combination of full body colour with high definition digitally printed designs inspired by natural and industrial elements. Now introducing the latest innovative technology incorporating natural micro elements of stones and crystals to create slabs of the highest aesthetic design and performance.

Contact Deborah for design options and the right technical solution for your next project.